I attended the International Online Launch of the Asian School of Wisdom (ASW) presided by Fr. Dr. Niphot Thienvihan, Director of RTRC, Thailand. ASW was established as interfaith & interdisciplinary society with its Mission stated as 'ASW envisions shaping youthful & people-centred learning communities that live in authentic dialogue based partnership & active harmony with themselves with the marginal farming & indigenous communities and with Mother Earth and all of Creation.' ASW is located in Chang Mai. The ceremony was graced by scholars, community and scholars, community and religious leaders. Among the speakers were Dato' Anwar Faizal of CAP and Dr. Colin Nicholaus of the Centre for Orang Asli Concerns, Malaysia & Prof Dr. Dicky Sofjan, Universiti Gadja Mada, Indonesia. I also spotted our Prof Nat who's a Member of ASW International Advisory Board, Marcus Ching Lai Huat and Yazdi Bankwala.
